What Must I Do To Be Saved?

Hear the gospel - Acts 15:7
 Believe the gospel - Mark 16:15-16
 Repent of sins - Acts 17:30
 Confess Christ - Rom 10:9-10
 Be baptized to remove sins - Acts 2:38, 22:16
 Live a faithful life - Rev 2:10, Col 1:21-23

What About People Who Never Hear the Gospel?

One of the most common questions people have is, what about those who never hear the gospel? What about the person born in a remote village? What about someone who never had access to a Bible? Could God condemn someone who never had an opportunity to hear about Christ?

Many people appeal to a concept often called invincible ignorance. The idea is that if a person is genuinely ignorant of the gospel through no fault of their own, God will save them anyway. While that view may sound compassionate, the real question isn't what seems fair to us. It's, what has God revealed?

The New Testament repeatedly teaches that salvation is found in Jesus Christ alone. Peter said, "And there is salvation in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given among men by which we must be saved" (Acts 4:12). Jesus Himself said, "No one comes to the Father except through me" (John 14:6).

Scripture also teaches that faith comes through hearing God's Word. Paul wrote, "So faith comes from hearing, and hearing through the word of Christ" (Romans 10:17). In the same chapter, Paul asks, "How are they to believe in him of whom they have never heard?" (Romans 10:14). His answer isn't that people can be saved apart from hearing. His answer is that the gospel must be preached.

Some point to Romans 1 and argue that creation itself can save those who have never heard the gospel. But Romans 1 says the opposite. God's creation reveals His power and divine nature, leaving humanity "without excuse" (Romans 1:20). Creation reveals that God exists. It doesn't reveal the death, burial, and resurrection of Jesus.

At the same time, Scripture gives us reason to trust God's providence. Jesus promised, "Ask, and it will be given to you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened to you" (Matthew 7:7). Those words reveal the truth about the character of God. God doesn't hide Himself from sincere seekers.

We see this principle throughout Scripture. The Ethiopian eunuch was searching the Scriptures, and God sent Philip to teach him the gospel (Acts 8:26-39). Cornelius was a devout man who feared God, and God sent Peter to tell him words by which he would be saved (Acts 10-11). Lydia was seeking God, and the Lord opened the door for her to hear the gospel (Acts 16:14). The Bible never portrays God as turning away someone who genuinely desires to know Him. Instead, we repeatedly see God working through His providence to bring the message of salvation to those who are seeking truth.

The Bible never presents ignorance as a means of salvation. Ignorance is a problem that must be overcome through the preaching of the gospel. That's why Jesus commanded His followers to make disciples of all nations (Matthew 28:19-20), and why Paul devoted his life to taking the gospel where Christ had not been named (Romans 15:20).

Scripture teaches two truths that must be held together. First, salvation is found only in Christ. Second, God is perfectly just and faithfully provides opportunities for those who seek Him. Abraham asked, "Shall not the Judge of all the earth do what is just?" (Genesis 18:25). The answer is yes.

Nowhere does the Bible reveal a separate plan of salvation for those who never hear. Instead, it reveals one Savior, one gospel, and one mission: take the good news of Jesus Christ to the world. Rather than speculating about exceptions God hasn't revealed, our focus should be on proclaiming the message He has revealed and trusting the justice and goodness of the God who revealed it.
