This world has a multitude of issues in the modern era, and one of them is trash. The waste of many daily goods and a lot of unnecessary items often adds to this problem. The sins that God removes from human souls makes up God’s “trash.” Again, what does God do with this “trash”? Last time, we discussed that God has many ways to get rid of this trash. He buries our sins by completely covering them underground, He casts our sins into the depths of the sea and makes them undiscoverable, and God flings our sin behind Him and forgets them. Today we will look into two more ways that God handles His “trash.”

HE EXPORTS IT
Some trash has been exported to poor countries, who either thought they could salvage something from it or felt the price they were paid was worth it. God exports our sins. He removes them from us “as far as the east is from the west” (Psalm 103:12). It is interesting that God did not use the similar figure of “as far is the north is from the south” because you can only go so far north and then you must go south. Therefore, the distance from the North Pole to South Pole is a specific distance: 12,403 miles. But when will east meet west? It never will, because you can go east for the rest of your life and never start to go west. How far is it from east to west? It is infinite. That is how far God removes our sins from us!

HE OBLITERATES IT
Some types of rubbish (military munitions, for instance) are destroyed by exploding them. They are obliterated. You could say that God obliterates our sins. They are erased from His memory forever (Jeremiah 31:34; Hebrews 8:12; 10:17). One man complained to his coworker about a fight he had with his wife the night before. “She got really worked up. I mean, eventually she got historical.” His friend laughed and said, “You mean she got hysterical.” “No, she got historical. She brought up every mistake I have made in the last ten years of our marriage.” That is the way we sometimes “forgive.” We keep a mental record of offenses and bring them up again later. But God is not like that. Forgiven sin has no “history.” It is forever gone. Jesus came to “make an end of sins” and to bring in “everlasting righteousness” (Daniel 9:24). Our sins are expunged from our official file (Isaiah 44:22) when we obey His gospel by believing in Jesus (John 3:16), repenting of sin (Luke 13:3), confessing Christ (Matthew 10:32), and being baptized for remission of sins (Acts 2:38). Since they are erased, they cannot be imputed (Psalm 32:2; Romans 4:7–8; 2 Corinthians 5:19). That is, God does not reckon this sin against us. The word “impute” is a mathematical or bookkeeping term. God keeps a record of our debts (sins); but, in forgiving them, He no longer keeps up with it. The ledger has a zero balance (Ezekiel 18:22; 33:16).
Then just a reminder, the invitation to take care of the sins (“trash”) is open to anyone that are in need today, tomorrow, or anytime that have the desire to give to Our Savior and Redeemer. So, rest easy; God has heaven’s trash under control.
