The Good Morning Good Day Café Story

My brother and I lived with and cared for our Mother for over 10 years. Every morning, we would say “Good Morning Ma” and she would say in Slovenian, “Dobro Jutro Dober Dan, Vsako Jutro Vsaki Dan” which translates to “Good Morning Good Day, Every Morning Every Day”

Our parents were immigrants from Slovenia and Croatia. Good Morning Good Day’s décor and menu is a tribute to my parents and our heritage. I like to say we come from good peasant stock. My parents worked long hours and were thrifty. We went to Slovenia and Croatia for a family trip and met many relatives including our grandfather, aunts, uncles and cousins. We still maintain those relationships today. The décor on the walls and shelves are souvenirs from our trips. Some of the menu items are traditional Slovenian or Croatian foods. Some have an American twist.
Dobro Jutro Dober Dan!

A second theme is “repurpose, recycle, and reuse”. All the furniture, dishes, glassware, silverware, the massive library, coffee makers, pitchers, carafes, dinner napkins are from resale shops. I am thankful to the Salvation Army Thrift, God’s Will Vintage & Thrift and H&H Upscale Resale in Streator for selling some of the items you are using today.

The glass tabletops used to be the store windows. The tables are from the former VFW. The ceiling fans, chandeliers, paint and wall units are from Habitat for Humanity Restore. The kitchen equipment, dining room chairs, table bases all came from closing or remodeling restaurants. The dining room floor was a portable Oktoberfest dance floor from Germany, purchased at the builder’s auction in Sandwich IL. Light fixtures, stemware, and some tables were purchased at Bradley’s Auction in Kernan IL.

Finally, we pay tribute to Streator. The drinking glasses were made here in Streator IL at Thatcher’s Glass (I have the boxes). The glass creamer cruets, dishes, stemware, plates are all about the glass factories. The brick entryway, on the walls, and floors pay homage to the historic brickyards of Streator. An original Streator Brick is on display, a gift from a neighboring building owner, Justin Proud. Finally, we will remember the coal miners. The special occasion room features a wall mural depicting a coal mine. The mural, painted by Georgia Braun, is taken from a print found in The Streator National Bank Building, purchased by Bill Phelan, owner of The Silver Fox.
